CHAI To Oversee Operation of the Edward A. Myerberg Center

Baltimore, MD -- CHAI: Comprehensive Housing Assistance, Inc., an agency of The Associated: Jewish Community Federation of Baltimore, announced today that it will oversee the management and operation of the Edward A. Myerberg Center, beginning July 1.

This arrangement, approved by Myerberg's Board of Directors, will enable CHAI to bring its extensive expertise in working with Northwest Baltimore's aging population to the management of the Myerberg. CHAI currently owns and operates 16 Weinberg Senior Living facilities including Weinberg Woods, an active senior living community connected to Myerberg through a breezeway.

CHAI also offers programs that support aging-in-community, such as Northwest Neighbors Connecting, a self-sustaining village of members and volunteers that provide everything from transportation to social activities and a Senior Home Repair and Benefit Coordination programs.

"As our population ages, it's essential to create strategic relationships to support older adults at every stage," says Mitch Posner, executive director of CHAI. "Integrating the senior-focused, content-rich program at Myerberg with CHAI enhances the range of services for our community, in particular adults 55+."

"Taking care of our growing senior population is one of the priorities for The Associated," says Marc B. Terrill, president of The Associated, "and we are excited to stand behind CHAI's commitment to taking over the operations of The Myerberg."

Myerberg was established in 1976 in a storefront on Reisterstown Road. Twenty-five years ago it moved to its current location at 3101 Falstaff Road. The Myerberg offers wellness, art and humanities programs, classes and activities and features a state-of-the-art fitness center. It currently boasts close to 1,200 members.

"We see this as an opportunity to broaden our scope of services," says Gail Zuskin, executive director of Myerberg. "It will allow us to continue to offer the high-quality programming important to our community."
